What a week we've had at Isbourne Valley! We had our very own Viking at our school gates on Tuesday morning, expertly managing the crowd. Who knew time travel could be so practical? This Viking warrior then treated us to a wonderful assembly, bringing history to life for the children before visiting a wide-eyed Evenlode class. It was a morning of shields, sagas, and Scandinavian surprises!

Not to be outdone, Avon Class embarked on their own adventure to the Wilson Museum in Cheltenham. They delved into the fascinating life of Cheltonian Edward Wilson and his brave journey as part of Captain Scott's expedition to the South Pole. The children thoroughly enjoyed their adventure as well as being a credit to the school. They listened intently to the museum expert, Hannah, before showing their knowledge of Antarctica and asking some super questions.

It's Sports Day!! As I write this, our children are out in the field, giving it their all in the morning field events. Their determination and team spirit have been excellent. We look forward to seeing many of you this afternoon, cheering on the children. Don't forget the trainers for the parent races!
Espero que disfruten de su semana. Nos vemos el lunes 2 de junio.
